

What is a GUARDIAN

A guardianship can actually be for a person, an estate or for the person and their estate.

Decides where the protected person will live.

Handles the finances of the individual.

Responsible for clothing, transportation, personal property.

Is an advocate for their overall well being.

Consents or denies medical treatments.

Court appointed to speak for the protected person.

